

THE GAZETTE.

WEDNESDAY MORNING, MARCH 11, 1880.

A GLIMPSE INTO HOME MATTERS.

No man of much observation or delicate appreciation of character, can look into our social circles and not discover a vulgarism, not much inferior to that pervading our political cabals. Our women, though intelligent, are too prone to the angularities of the intellect than the more elevated feelings of the heart. To be dependent on, or subordinate to man, in any of the relations of life to our women a feeling of degradation, something against which their nature rebels. This savage instinct of independence leads them to shun the hospitalities so inseparable from every happy home, lest ministrations of them might in some way be coupled with mental attributes, or dim the tinsel of their wardrobe or the gloss of their upholstery. With a good disposition and a proper training, every woman of sound mind and body can be useful, while but very few can adorn or add lustre to the circles in which they move.

Great personal charms or great originality of mind may sometimes excuse a woman's neglect of the more humble yet important offices of life, but can, however, in no way atone for the injury which this neglect does to the economy of life. Hitherto the easy acquisition of wealth and the many new openings for the daring enterprises of young men, have kept our social circles from being overpowered by spinsterdom, but the times are fast approaching when the trying obligations of married life upon the mere commercial prospect of making money by risky speculations. Young men of character and education, as in Europe, will rather live single and maintain their own personal independence and dignity, than draw families around them and become their material slaves. Besides, the future is destined to give to celibacy a dignity and virtue which it has not had in the past. It is for time alone to vindicate its rights.

In the growth and prosperity of clubs, in the increasing disposition of young men to associate with each other, apart from the other sex, in their constant presence at places of public amusements, without ladies, may be seen the evidences of decreasing marriages and increasing celibacies. This must have a taming, humbling effect upon women, must weaken their sense of independence, and render them more true to their social obligations, more alive to the necessity of becoming, not figuratively, but really, social angels. Humility, modesty, diffidence, are three of the most beautiful qualities in a woman, and are generally found only in nature as noble and elevated by inheritance as by cultivation. Our special circles are barren and edifying, with them. They are as highly important in the doctrine of Christianity as they are in our secular civilization, adorn our homes as well as our public assemblies, and promote harmony and put to rest many of the discordant elements of our nature. Our youth, however, are very destitute of them; our teachings and practices, our social arrangements and rivalries, our pride and ambition are very foreign to their growth; if not poisonous to their maturity. The affections of the heart have no outlet, have no soil to grow in—have no sustenance from our superficial and materialistic education.

In the narrow, dry and contracted countenances of our young people, in the careworn, wrinkled and thought-tangled looks, are to be seen the ravages wrought by the vitiated condition of our unusually raw social system. The black shadow of our daily obligations is constantly resting on us, is fretting away the best impulses of our lives, and disturbing and harrowing up the midnight hours allotted to repose. We hanker after riches, we sigh out our souls for positions, we pine for aristocratic or gold-digged connections, we shudder at our own loneliness when the world ceases to be noisy around us, when our vanity is not tickled, when our self-importance is not inflated by the circle in which we move, without ever thinking of the impassable gulf between all this and our true destination as Christians and members of a civilized community. Need we wonder, then, if the social keys seldom yield higher tones than those relating to the kitchen and its inmates, to the low gossip and frivolous conduct of a certain clique of fashionable gossips.

We are glad to know our women go to church, admire their ministers, and participate actively in everything pertaining to both, but see no necessity on their part to be constantly talking on the subject; we are glad to know they have a good doctor, a good music or art teacher, but cannot tolerate an eternal tongue rattling about them; we are glad to know that mothers have their daughters highly accomplished and fathers their sons, but could do without a parental shower of words on the matter; we are glad to see fine furniture, fine houses, efficient servants, fashionable milliners and dressmakers, but hate all wearisome speech-making and tantalizing dissipation and dissipation in everything pertaining to both. BAUGH'S RAW BONE SUPER-PHOSPHATE OF LIME, MANUFACTURED FROM UNBURNED BONES, BY BAUGH & SONS, PHILADELPHIA.

Wholesale office and store, No. 20, South Wharves, Philadelphia, Pa.

Cash price $4.50 per 1000 lbs. (24 cts. per lb.)

IN the preparation of this Valuable Manure, BONES are used in their raw state only. They have never been boiled or calcined. They are taken as nature has made them, crushed with powerful Machinery, and subjected to a process, by which, while all the strength of the Bone is retained, a Fertilizer is procured, furnishing in a concentrated and soluble form the two indispensable ingredients for the growth of Plants and enriching the soil, viz: PHOSPHORIC ACID AND AMMONIA. These ingredients, by the use of BAUGH'S RAW BONE SUPER-PHOSPHATE, are given to the soil in all their original strength and purity. They assimilate at once with the soil, furnish all the needed Ammonia for the growth of plants, giving a simple luxuriance, and leave the land permanently benefited so that its presence can be traced for years afterwards.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 5th, 1856.

"Baugh's Highly Improved Super-Phosphate of Lime," being a new and improved Fertilizer, is a valuable addition to the first class of fertilizers. I regard it as superior to a super-phosphate made from bone ash or burned bone, because the more valuable portion of organic matter is not destroyed in Baugh's Super-Phosphate.

JAS. C. BOOTH, Practical and Analytical Chemist.

"The Pennsylvania State Agricultural Society," at their recent State fair, awarded "Baugh's Raw Bone Phosphate," a first class medal, and a diploma, which is a great testimonial to its value. It is a valuable addition to the first class of fertilizers, containing full directions, &c., &c.

EXCELSIOR NO. 1 PERUVIAN GUANO AND SOLUBLE PHOSPHATE. Commonly known as EXCELSIOR DEBRUG, CONTAINING AMMONIA, 6 per cent; Phosphates, 57 per cent; composed of 7000 pounds of No. 1 PERUVIAN GUANO, and 1200 pounds of SOLUBLE PHOSPHATE OF LIME, Potash, Soda, and Magnesia, forming the most concentrated and durable FERTILIZER ever offered to the Farmer, combining all the stimulating properties of Peruvian Guano, and the durable fertilizing properties of Ground Bones—supplying an abundance of Ammonia for the growth of all soils, and in a perfectly fixed condition—non-volatile, and passing off with the first crop as with Peruvian Guano, and other Ammoniacal Guanos, but stimulating the crop to which it is applied, and all succeeding crops, giving to poor, worn out and unproductive soils, new life and vigor.

It furnishes to the soil Soluble Phosphate of Lime, (Bones dissolved in Sulphuric acid) in a perfectly available form, ready food for the plant at once; a fact of great importance to the Farmer; and immediate action and efficacy of all manures, depends entirely upon the solubility of their Phosphates. Bones are alone used in the manufacture of this article, avoiding altogether the use of the so-called Phosphate Guanos, a considerable quantity of which is made up of Iron and Alumina, which are utterly valueless to the Farmer.

The EXCELSIOR also supplies to the soil, Potash, Soda, and Magnesia, which are extracted from it in a pure and concentrated form, and must be returned, or the soil will become impoverished and exhausted, notwithstanding the application of Guano and other Manures deficient in Alkalies.

This article has been tested for several years past on Peruvian and other Guano, and now tanks with those who have used it, as a first class Manure for any crop common to this region. Numerous certificates to that effect furnished on application.

Every package is warranted to be uniform in quality and to contain by analysis, the standard of fertilizing properties.

Farmers should see that every package bears in red letters the name of J. J. & F. Turner, under the inspection—none other genuine. Price $47 per 2000 pounds. For sale in any quantity, by JAMES C. NEVETT, Sole Agent for Alexandria.

SOLUBLE AMMONIATED PHOSPHATIC GUANO. MADE OF GUANOS OF DIRECT IMPORTATION, and under the personal supervision and direction of Dr. R. H. STABLE, Chemist, of this city. This fertilizer is confidently recommended as the most permanent and cheapest yet offered to the public. Being composed of No. 1 PERUVIAN and SUMBRERO GUANOS, of our own direct importation, we warrant it in every respect.

The Sumbrero Guano, being the purest and most valuable, is the basis of this fertilizer, and is the only mixture of the Ammoniated and Phosphate GUANOS we know of, yet offered to the Agricultural community, in a READY SOLUBLE FORM.

For sale by J. J. & F. TURNER, Sole Agents for Alexandria, Va.

IMPORTERS AND DEALERS IN ALL KINDS OF FERTILIZERS. Have now on hand, and will continue to receive direct from the Islands, their usual full supply of NO. 1 PERUVIAN GUANO.

SOMBRERO GUANO. Direct from the Island of Sombrero. They are sole agents for this article in this city.

They have also on hand, COLUMBIAN GUANO, A. A. and J. J. GUANO, ELIDE ISLAND, or CALIFORNIA GUANO, JARVIS ISLAND, or AMERICAN GUANO.

All of which they are prepared to furnish, as heretofore, at as low rates as they can be had in any market in the country.
